Then he makes any uncommon and hard climbing.

Sylvain is bringing few close relations to discover his new routes.
It is across these complicity times and inside these big grey or orange walls that we will discover an unknown part of the modern climbing history and will wonder about the activity developments.

The movie get 3 main goals :

1. To highlight the secrets of multi-pitches climbing, driving by any enthusiast «explorers» who are giving lots of time and energy for community.

Behind the scenes there are also debates about ethics, exposures, topographies, etc. Any debates which are sometimes unsung from mainstream but really essential for the activity.

2. To highlight few symbolic and wonderful alpine places, which were in the 80's the theaters of free climbing development in France. Today they are sometimes a little bit «forgotten» ... Making new modern and hard routes in these rock faces enable to update them, to make them attractive for young climbers, and to scan again their histories.

Famous climbing explorers will be interviewed.

3. To show why we are inspired by climbing world, according to Sylvain's character. We deal about humility, reflexion, attention, respect, eco-evolution, and especially about sharing and happiness, pleasure.
