

Welcome to Vienna

A brief guide to get from the airport to Vienna city centre and to the WSRC 11 conference venue, Austria Center Vienna (ACV)

Kindly note that there is no organized transport between the venues, and attendees are responsible for their own transportation arrangements.

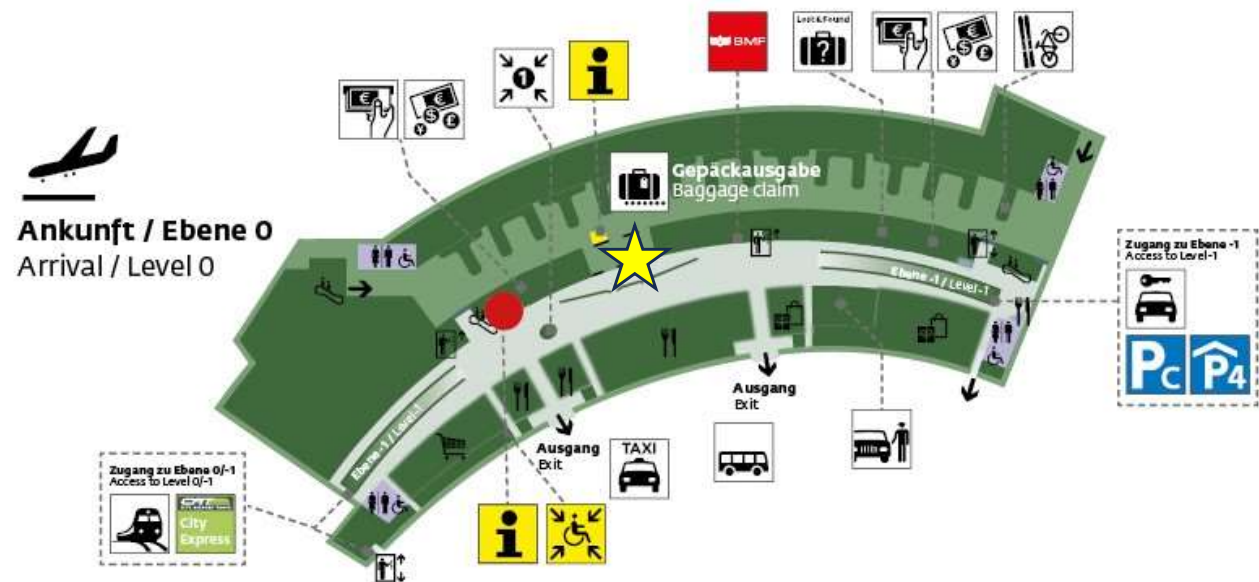

Arriving at the Vienna airport

The airport's information desk is located in the arrival hall in terminal 3 and in the departure lounges in terminal 1 and 3. Information can be obtained 24/7 via +43 1 7007 222 33.

Yellow star: Here you will enter the arrival hall. Turn right to get to the information desk. There you will find trains and taxis.

Practical tip:

The German word for airport is 'Flughafen'.

Getting from the airport to Vienna

There are several train and bus connections between the airport and Vienna. We advise to use Google Maps (or similar) to find the easiest direction to your hotel / conference venue ACV.

Tickets for the Vienna public transport system (German: 'Wiener Linien') are not covering the connection to the Vienna airport. You need a dedicated ticket for this connection. Approach the information desk at the Vienna airport for detailed information.

Directions provided by Google Maps are in our experience up to date and reliable.

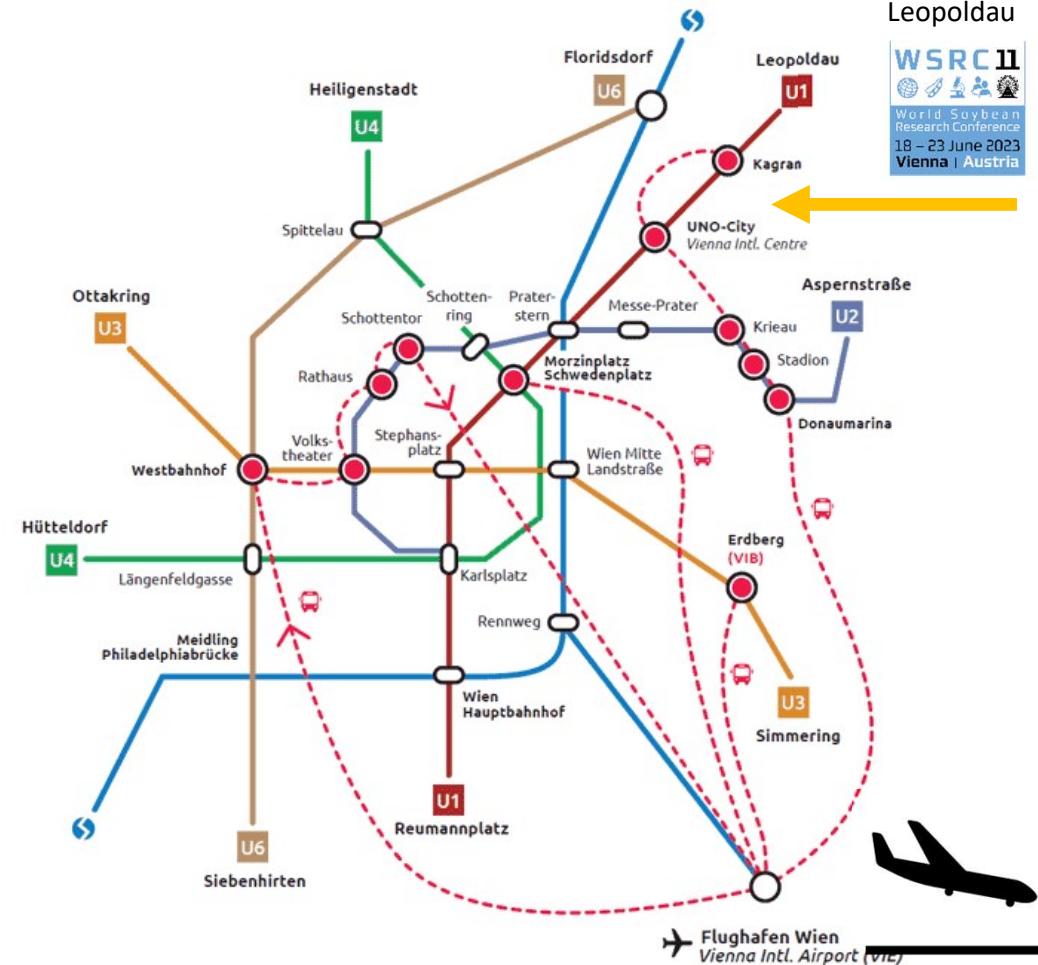

Public transport in Vienna:

Vienna has an excellent public transport system, which includes trains ('S-Bahn'), metros, trams and buses.

We recommend to take a multi-day ticket for the public transport in Vienna. You can buy it through the WienMobil app or at the ticket machines.

Getting to the WSRC 11 venue

The conference venue Austria Center Vienna (ACV) is located at the red metro line U1 station "Kaisermühlen-VIC" towards Leopoldau. The metro is a very convenient connection from the city centre to the venue.

For your information:

VIC stands for Vienna International Center. On the photo below you can see the building of the UNO Office in Vienna.

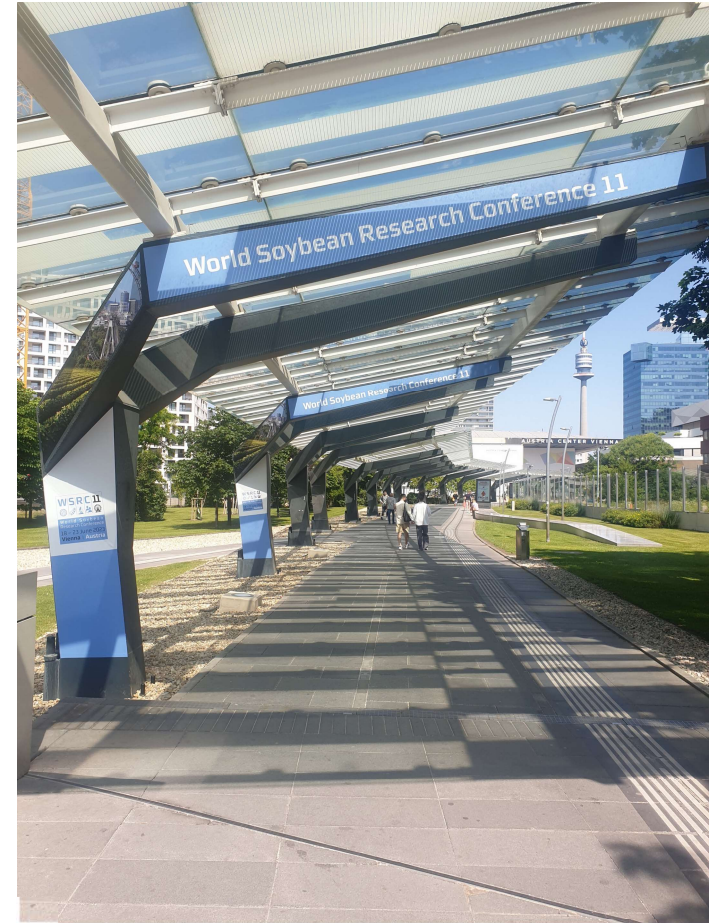

Exit the U1 station Kaisermühlen-VIC and turn right. The Austria Center is only few minutes away
