How it works

You, the audience, are the jury.

It is a knock-out contest.

Two films are shown, one after the other.

The audience is asked to raise their hands if they prefer the first film.

This is repeated for the second film and the votes are counted.

The film with more votes moves on to the next round.

In each round, the films are watched and voted on in pairs.

When all have been rated, the contestants for the next round are determined.

And so it goes on ... until the winning film is decided.

A WMMC film has, or should have, a good punch line!

The programme will be distributed at the entrance to the Cinema.

Le programme sera distribué à l'entrée du cinéma.

Das Programm wird am Eingang am Eingang des Kinos verteilt.
