I will guide you around the Nikko area and the Nasu highland area. A characteristic of Nikko is the harmony of nature and a collection of historical architectural works which are designated as a World Cultural Heritage Site. The Nasu highland area, where the Imperial family has a villa, is a popular resort surrounded by a refreshing environment of rich nature. It offers different kinds of therapeutic hot spring baths which have cured people for 1300 years.

I would imagine you want to try the local cuisine of the area you visit, don't you? I can provide such information and if you would enjoy learning how Japanese dishes are made, I would love to show you how to make such Japanese favorites as sushi, Japanese vegetarian food, Japanese sweets, and any requests you might have.

Guests spending a day or two with me find their stay in Japan greatly enhanced. We journey on an immersive-yet-relaxing time slip, returning you with a rewarding experience and lasting memory.
