

Lean production factory guided tour!

Toyota Production System (TPS, lean production method) experts guide you to Toyota related facilities and other historical heritage sites such as Nagoya Castle. —We will explain the essence of the TPS onsite.—

“Industrial tourism”, where you can see and experience Japanese manufacturing sites, is attracting interest from domestic and overseas travelers. The Chubu region has inherited the DNA of manufacturing, from the textile industry to the automobile and railway industries, etc., continually following on from the invention of the automatic loom that led the Japanese industrial revolution. For this reason, it is blessed with historical and cultural industrial cultural assets, and there are many cutting-edge production sites. In recent years, new industrial fields such as the aircraft and space industries are also being developed. Here, Aichi Prefecture also has industrial tourism facilities where you can see the manufacturing process of automobiles and aircraft up close. You can visit them together to experience the manufacturing spirit and to promote human exchange with Japanese companies.

Target: We will provide explanations of the Toyota Production System and industrial tourism facilities of cutting-edge industries such as Aerospace in English, etc. to overseas academics, university students, and researchers, etc. The Tokyo Olympics will be held in 2020, and the Osaka World Expo will be held in 2025. Accordingly, Japan will promote the creation of an even more exciting country. We would like you to take this opportunity to experience the “Monozukuri (manufacturing)” power of Japan.
