

My name is Annabel Taiwo and I am a grade 9 student currently attending Herschelschule. When I first heard about this Essay, I decided to participate in it because I have a very lovely friend who lives in England and I also thought that it would be a great experience to write about my friend.

The first thing that I learned about England was the timeline. Before I met my friend whose name is Linda, I already knew that Germany was 1 hour ahead of England. My friend Linda isn't the type of person to always go out but when she does, she sends me a couple of photos and I always get mesmerized.

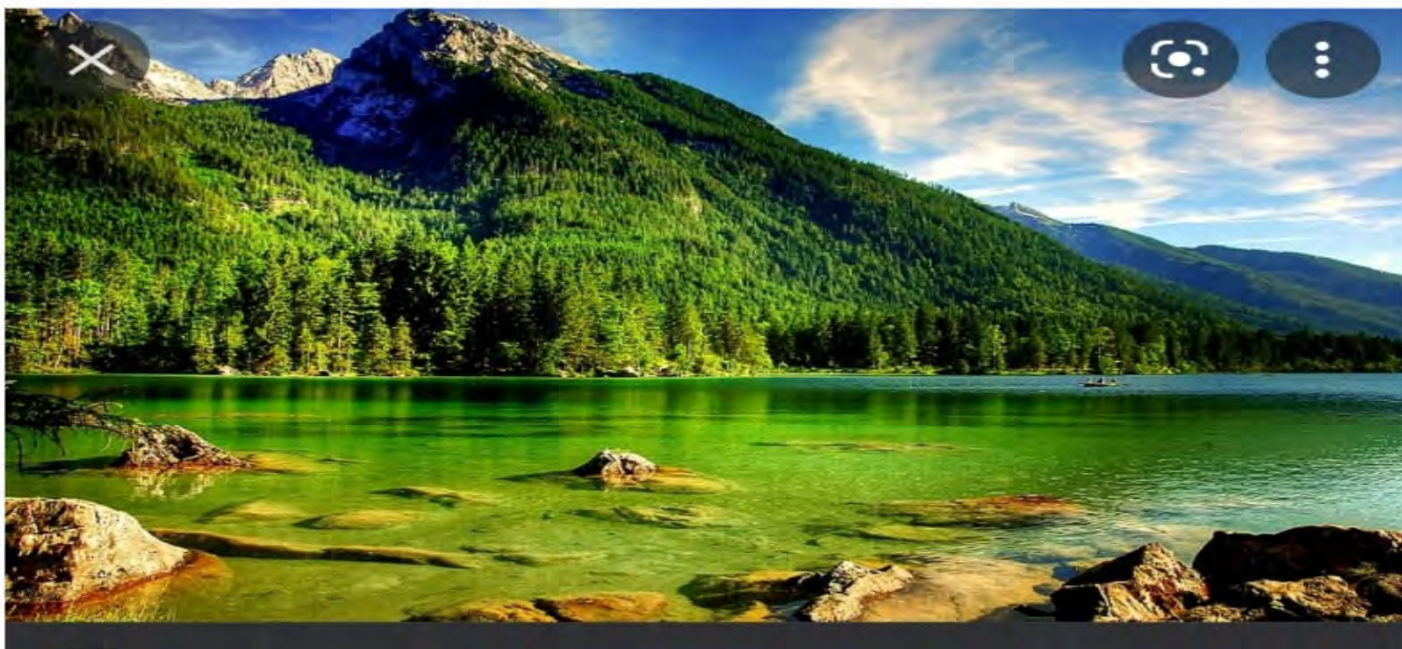

Even though my friend Linda isn't the type of person to go out but her parents always love the idea of traveling from one place to another. "There are so many more places that you can explore in England" they said and that quote always gives me butterflies in my stomach.

The very first time that Linda and I texted each other, she was in Hyde Park. I was quite curious and I wanted to see how it looks like, so I asked her for a photo which she later sent. The place was so beautiful even though there were quite a few people, you could still see the features of the place.

(HYDE PARK)

She then asked me to tell her the difference between England and Germany's Parks. I was glad because I could find a difference. Take Berchtesgaden National Park for an example, there you can see mountains and it's also located in the forest with a couple of trees.

(Berchtesgaden National Park)

When I told her that, she wished to visit Berchtesgaden National Park because she loves quite places with trees around. Furthermore, Linda's favorite place to visit is the Natural History Museum. She has visited that place over six times but she just can't seem to get enough of specimens.

(Natural History Museum)

Her phone wallpaper is a photo of a dinosaur skeletons which she took on her first visit there. In the Natural history museum, there is a library that contains extensive books, journals, manuscripts, and artwork collections. Linda could talk about Natural history museum a whole day. It's not that I'm complaining, the problem is that I'm jealous that Germany doesn't have that type of Museum.

When I was talking about my visit to Herrenhausen Garden and how beautiful the place and flowers are there, Linda then told me that she once visited a place like that and it's called "The Birmingham Botanical Garden". She sent me photos of the place and it looked so magnificent and very unique. The place was breathtaking.

It was full of different types of flowers and I really loved it. Linda's dream is to come to Germany and visit Pergamon museum that is located in Berlin. She always talk about how great the place looks and that always makes me happy because someone also loves Germany as much as I do.

I'm actually thinking about visiting England for holiday in the future, I really hope I do. I'm actually really happy that I could write about my thoughts and about my lovely friend, it really made me feel relieved. I hope you liked my Text, thanks a lot.

Address: Hinrichsring 7, 30177 Hannover
Germany (Taiwo Juliet)

Name: Annabel Taiwo (14)

Email: taiwoannabel2007@gmail.com